Taste of India

You know that Layton's Taste of India must be special, since it regularly wins awards but, unlike most other Indian eateries, doesn't even do a lunch buffet. Ah, but that's partly why it wins awards. The owners don't feel that the traditional lunch buffet does justice to Taste of India's made-to-order cuisine. That's just one of the differences here. Another is utilizing iPads to take customer orders. All of the curries and other sauces are made from scratch, using the freshest ingredients and spices. And so, dishes like lamb bunna, chicken vindaloo, shrimp tikka masala and malai kofta (veggie dumplings) simply sing with vibrant flavors. And now, due to popular demand, there's a second Taste of India, in West Jordan.
